

Intro

The scenario here is: Imagine we are doing an assessment. What typically happens here is, we would be sending the client a laptop and on that laptop there is a VPN connection that when plugged in "phones" home. We are able to connect to that VPN connection and share that tunnel. So, then we can run these attacks while having the laptop without the need to travel on site.

We are assuming we already have an initial access (Internal Pentesting).